

13TH October 2015

We were extremely privileged to have Ngahihi o te ra Bidois speak in September at our Evolve Education Group Inaugural Conference in Auckland.

Ngahi held the floor with a mesmerizing 60min presentation that totally captivated the 120 delegates in the room.

Ngahi shared his personal experiences, with such conviction and emotion that the audience was brought to tears. His key messages were powerful and resonated strongly with all our managers, encouraging them to reflect on their own personal and professional leadership.

“Ngahi was such a strong motivating speaker – he had me mesmerized!”

“The whakatauki that Ngahi shared was so very relevant to our philosophy and his advice to ‘pick an eagle’ was so meaningful to me.”

“I really appreciated the way that Ngahi related what he was saying to what the previous speaker had said this helped to clarify and reinforce these key messages.”

Ngahi’s strong visual presentation style made his presentation very memorable and has as a result instilled in our managers a feeling of self belief to ‘step up’ and in their ability to influence and lead their staff.

“I will always remember Ngahi telling us about his past and the bars that came down and held him back – I feel so empowered now to not let these hold me back!”
